

Dr. Vivek Tandon
Founder of Aloe Private Equity

Dr. Vivek Tandon is an experienced international entrepreneur with an extensive background in building technology start-up companies. He is the Founder and General Partner of Aloe Private Equity, a company with international links that develops and provides capital injection into Companies with Environmentally Sustainable Technology and establishes strategic partnerships with companies based in India, China and other ASEAN countries.

Prior to forming Aloe, Vivek co-founded a number of technology companies He has held several senior executive management positions including Managing Director (UK) of Viventures (a USD$700m Venture Capital Fund), CIENA, Kymata, British Telecommunications PLC and Motorola. Vivek is currently the Vice Chairman of Allied Technology Group, Director & Chairman of remuneration committee of Greenko (a listed Indian based Renewable Energy company), Board Director of Recupyl (a French based recycling company), Board Member of EnvironCOM (a UK WEEE recycling company), Chairman of Maxsys (a UK company selling energy saving equipment) and Chairman of AlphaPET (a recycling company with manufacturing facilities in India). He has a PhD from University College, London and a BS in Physics from Imperial College. He has published numerous papers and has several patents.