

Theodius Lennon
Director, Directorate General for Research, European Commission

Dius Lennon is Director in the European Commission's Research Department responsible for policy relation to Small and Medium Sized Enterprises and the Commission's relations with the newly created European Research Council Agency and the Research Executive Agency.

Previously, Dius was responsible for the Social Sciences and Humanities Research Programme.

Dius has worked in various general directorates of the European Commission since 1987 – Budget, Health and Consumer Protection, Administration and Personnel. He was also Deputy Head of Cabinet of the British Commissioner Bruce Millan (1989-1994) with responsibility for Regional Policy.

Between 1974 and 1987 Dius worked for the British treasury and Foreign Office on monetary policy and the EU budget.